

CLINAMENAUDIO

Stereo → Mono Summing Device

This device combines the Right and Left stereo channels in a single mono channel without losing any information; a necessity for enthusiasts that enjoy listening in Monoaural mode.

Most summing devices are made using resistive techniques which causes a loss in dynamic response.

The CLINAMENAUDIO device uses a Superpermalloy Transformer to sum the two channels in one. This method maintains the correct balance without losing any of the dynamics!

Hand made in Italy by Stefano Buttafoco